Ordway Hall dedicated

AS PART OF ITS ANNUAL ALUMNI WEEKEND CELEBRATION, Gould Academy dedicated the new Ordway Hall, a state-of-the-art dining and meeting facility named for Gould Academy Board of Trustees president and alumnus Alan B. Ordway '58, owner of Winona Camps in Bridgton. Completion of Ordway Hall construction, the first significant such project on the Gould campus in nearly thirty years, comes as Gould prepares to launch a major capital fundraising effort intended to bring the Academy into the new millennium at full stride.

According to academy officials, the fundraising endeavor is intended to address the needs of the academy's growing student population and support the academy's commitment to quality secondary education with a major renovation of campus dormitories, improvement of classroom and science facilities, and building of the academy's endowment to sustain and improve faculty compensation and development. Ceremonies for the dedication of Ordway Hall and the launch of the Campaign for Gould Academy's Future were held at Gould on Saturday and included presentations from headmaster and president-elect of the New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC) William P. Clough III and Maine House of Representatives majority leader Carol A. Kontos (D-Windham). Alan Ordway (shown here) spoke of the concept of community and how a dining hall nourishes not only the body, but also the spirit of the place. "A good dining hall should have few walls separating those who dine from those who serve; from those who teach from those who maintain the campus. Finally, a good dining hall allows the outside to come in. My family and I are most grateful and honored that Ordway Hall first and foremost promotes what is and has been the heart of Gould Academy: a tradition of community." Behind Ordway are (from left) Judith Watson Ingram '59, Alumni Board of Directors; Donald M. Christie Jr. '60, Board of Directors; Headmaster Bill Clough; and Dallas Folk, of H.P. Cummings Construction Co. A photograph of the new dining hall can be found on page 5.

Boards tackle projected increase in sewer rates

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The Bethel Board of Selectmen and Budget Committee will meet again Monday to attempt to decide how best to deal with a proposed 21 percent increase in the operating budget for the town's wastewater treatment plant.

The 1999 budget proposal in front of the two boards is for $386,400, or $68,225 more than the 1998 budget.

That increase could translate into a rate hike of as much as 30 percent over the next two years for almost 500 customers on the town sewer system.

The bulk of the increase is due to costs associated with the $2.3 million upgrade project currently underway at the wastewater treatment plant.

Voters initially approved the upgrade work in December 1998, but town officials were forced to call three subsequent special Town Meetings -- as the cost of the project jumped for an earlier estimate of $1.7 million, and the amount of money the town had to borrow increased from $770,000 to $1.3 million.

Much of the loan was expected to be paid off over time by a combination of Sewer System Development Charges (the fees paid by new households and businesses connecting to the system) and by some form of increase in user fees.

Had the SSDCs expected from the development of Bethel Station come in at the rate initially projected, the proposed rate increases in user fees would have been smaller, according to Town Manager Phil Tarr.

The emphasis now for both the selectmen and budget committee members has been on keeping that increase as gradual as possible.

Noting that the six of his fellow Budget Committee members who were present at an earlier meeting on the sewer budget were not on the sewer system, Punky Davis said:

Environmental inspectors give pipeline project generally good grades

By ALISON ALOISIO

Crews are putting the finishing touches on the PNGTS pipeline project in the Bethel area -- and getting what seem to be generally satisfactory reviews for their work.

The 292-mile long main pipeline reaches from Canada to Massachusetts.

Both the main line and a lateral spur to Rumford pass through the Bethel area. A large pipeyard was also located in Gilead, and a lateral line staging area in Bethel.

"There has been more activity in Bethel than in any other town on the list," said Dick Anderson, PNGTS spokesman.

Much of the activity in the area is now cleanup work, including leveling and seeding areas where pipe has been buried. There are still a few places where pipework continues, such as on the Intervale Road and Route 26 in Bethel, and near the Greenwood/Albany town line.

Most of the pipe crews are now working mainly in the Otisfield/Casco area. About 150 to 200

'We got everyone at the same place and talked about these things and it worked quite well since then.'

MIKE MULLEN

DEP Environmental Specialist, on dealing with early problems on the pipeline project workers associated with the project are still in the Bethel area. Some continue to work locally, while others are just living locally while commuting to the job sites farther south.

Mother Nature has apparently made up for soaking the project in June by showing restraint in September. "The weather has been terrific, with low rainfall," said Anderson. "Everything is going great."

CEO: no problems

Lisa Scott, Bethel's code enforcement officer, has been out inspecting the work during the course of with retraining on erosion control. In the Bethel area, violations along the Rumford lateral line included a gasoline can stored within 100 feet of a water body along a road, a lack of safety fencing near two houses close to the pipeline, work and failure to complete the work near the homes within 24 hours.

Since then, said Anderson, worker retraining has taken place and a person has been hired to oversee environmental law compliance for the whole project. FERC is again issuing permits for work, he said.

Mike Mullen, an environmental specialist with the Maine Department of Environmental Protection, was asked about compliance on the lateral pipeline. DEP, he said, is now "fairly comfortable" with PNGTS's performance.

Earlier this year, he said, "we asked them to stop work and regroup," because of some problems with erosion control and stream crossing techniques in the

MDOT promises action on Rt. 26 in Bryant Pond

By ALISON ALOISIO

Truckers traveling Route 26 through Bryant Pond can expect stepped-up law enforcement in the near future, compliments of the Maine Department of Transportation.

Another round of tractor trailer rollovers in the village recently prompted state Sen. Norm Ferguson (R-Hanover) to write MDOT commissioner John Melrose asking for a "plan of action" for dealing with the situation.

In a Sept. 15 letter of reply, Melrose said the Maine State Police Commercial Vehicle Enforcement Unit will "initiate more weigh details to monitor this area," and "schedule regular 'high visibility' police details" to monitor truck traffic.

In addition, said Melrose, MDOT has "set aside $10,000 to install signs and beacons on the approach to the corner on Route 26 in Bryant Pond. The purpose of the project is to give advance warning to motorists who may be traveling too fast to negotiate the corner."

The project is expected to be advertised Oct. 28, and is considered a priority, he wrote.

"I am confident that the combination of improved signage and increased enforcement attention in the Woodstock area will address the concerns raised in your letter," Melrose concluded.

Newry studies options on Sunday River Road

By ALISON ALOISIO

Newry selectmen learned Tuesday it would cost the town approximately $67,000 as its share of a proposed widening and improvement project on the southern end of the Sunday River Road.

The project, which would also include work on the Bethel portion of the road had been proposed as a 50-25-25 split cost, with the state paying 50 percent of the total project, Sunday River Ski Resort paying 25 percent of the total, and Newry and Bethel paying 25 percent of the project cost in those towns, respectively.

Bethel town manager Phil Tarr has also been involved in discussions about the project, along with MDOT and Sunday River officials. The Board of Selectmen have yet to take up the matter.

Widening project could go to Town Meeting

In a Sept. 3 letter to Sunday River, Norm Haggan, MDOT assistant division engineer, outlined plans and costs for three adjacent sections of the road.

Section 1, beginning 400 feet north of the Route 2 intersection in Bethel, extends for 5,300 feet. MDOT proposes to improve and repave the existing road and add four-foot shoulders on both sides, with eight-foot shoulders added at three retail businesses. The estimated cost for such highway rehabilitation is $153,000.

Section 2 reaches from 5,700 feet up the road to the Newry town line. The road would be straightened and four-foot shoulders added near an area of curves and ledges known as the Alps. Guard rails and heavy riprap would be placed along the river. The estimated cost for the reconstruction is $304,000. A cheaper alternative would be similar treatment as for section 1, at a cost of $70,000.

Section 3 begins at the Newry town line and extends three-quarters of a mile to the recently constructed intersection with the Skiway Access Road. As with section 1, the road would be repaved and four-foot shoulders added, and eight-foot shoulders near three businesses and Valley View Road. A bridge would be widened to 30 feet and guardrail upgraded. A short section near the Post Office would be fully reconstructed. The estimated cost is $269,000.

Selectman Steve Wight, after figuring Newry's share under such a scenario would be $67,000, suggested the board find out MDOT's time frame for construction and whether Sunday River Ski Resort will make a firm commitment to paying part of the cost.

With that information in hand, plans could be made for townpeople to vote on the question. Selectmen speculated funds could be raised over a period of two years, if residents favor the work.

MANY GOOD REASONS FOR A PARK

To the Editor:

Pride. That is the word that comes to minds of many people when they hear the words "National Park." Where other nations have stunning architectural structures or masterpieces of art, America has beautiful natural places, our crown jewels, our national parks. The White Mountains deserve to be a national park.

What makes national parks different from national forests is the dedication to preservation. This is clearly stated in the National Park Service's purpose; to conserve the scenery and natural and historic objects and the wildlife therein and leave them unimpaired for the enjoyment of future generations. This preservation mandate is why organizations such as the Appalachian Mountain Club, The Wilderness Society and the Sierra Club have campaigned for the creation of many national parks throughout the country.

The idea of creating a national park from national forest is not new. Many of our national parks, including Grand Canyon, Olympic, Glacier, Bryce Canyon, Grand Teton, Kings Canyon and Rocky Mountain National Parks came from national forests. Today national parks hold many of our most noted national symbols.

National parks have also become anchors for economically diverse and stable communities. For example, communities surrounding Yellowstone National Park are thriving with an influx of new, small businesses. According to one survey, approximately 80 percent of the job growth in these communities during the last 25 years has been in the service sector. While this includes some relatively low-paying jobs, 29 percent of the new job growth is engineering and management positions and 22 percent is in the health care sector. In Jackson, Wyo., gateway to Grand Teton National Park, the business with the largest payroll is not a hotel or ski resort. It is a law firm with a national clientele, located there because of the scenic beauty and quality of life. Study after study shows that communities that preserve their character and natural values consistently outperform the economics of those that do not.

What would be some of the changes if the management of the White Mountains was transferred to the National Park Service? For starters, the $1.3 million taxpayer subsidy the Forest Service pays to have the Whites logged would stop. So would the very expensive road construction program that has criss-crossed the Whites with more than 500 miles of logging roads. And the clearcutting that is ripping the heart out of the forest would be a thing of the past. Where the Forest Service's focus is extractive activities, the Park Service allows the forest to be managed the way nature planned.

Changing the management could end the user fees presently charged by the Forest Service to any person who happens to stop their vehicle within the WMNF -- even if it is just to eat a sandwich. National parks with similar physical layouts such as Great Smoky Mountains and North Cascades do not charge an entrance fee. And, the National Park Service has a number of programs to help local communities with planning and development.

Recently, a few people have made some erroneous statements about what is and is not allowed in national parks. Visitors to national parks enjoy fishing, swimming, hiking, skiing, biking and camping. The present operations of downhill ski areas within the Whites would not be affected. And, one only needs to look at Redwood and Voyageurs National Parks to see that snowmobiling can be allowed. While hunting is not allowed in national parks, many of the newer national parks have designated "preserves" where hunting is allowed. National parks also offer extensive interpretive programs. Indeed, according to Terence Clark III, Saco district ranger, White Mountain National Forest, the National Park Service is "the best at doing interpretations as naturalists." The Parks Service has the expertise to manage large numbers of people while preserving nature.

The social requirements and economic needs that face the White Mountain region have changed from 75 years ago. What has not changed is the need to protect and preserve nature. Preserving nature is preserving our children's future. A White Mountain National Park is a step toward that future.

TELSTAR ALUMNI GOLF CLASSIC

To the Editor:

The Telstar Alumni Association Golf classic will be held at the Bethel Inn & Country Club this Saturday, Oct. 3, with tee times beginning at 1:30 p.m. Registrations for this nine-hole scramble are still being accepted, and can be called to either Bonnie Marshall at the Bethel Inn Pro Shop or Gayle Russell at 665-2468. It is not necessary to be a Telstar Alumni Association member to play, just a golfer who wants to have a great day on the links.

In keeping with the Alumni Association goal, sponsorship for all of the current Telstar golf team members to play in this tournament has been received. Area businesses and organizations which have made this possible include Preb's Pharmacies, Pat's Pizza, Key Bank, Brooks Bros., Bethel Inn & Country Club, Kendall Insurance, Books 'n Things, and Jackson-Silver Post 68. In addition, contributions for prizes have come in from Viewer's Choice Video, Books 'n Things and Pat's Pizza.

We all have to start somewhere, and the Telstar Alumni Association has started the Golf Classic as a way to begin to raise money for a scholarship program for all Telstar graduates. Thank you to all our current sponsors for helping us get started.

This event is the first in what we envision as a continuing Telstar Homecoming Weekend tradition. We are delighted to say that the support from the community is wonderful in helping to make that dream a reality.

JOIN UP, BOYS

To the Editor:

I am writing this as a letter of invitation to every boy in the SAD44 area who has completed the fifth grade, is 11 years of age, or has earned the Arrow of Light in Cub Scouts and hasn't reached the age of 18. If any boy meets these requirements and would like to be a Boy Scout, we would love to talk with him.

We meet weekly at the West Parish Congregational Church in Bethel on Sundays from 6 to 7:30 p.m. The only weeks we do not meet are if we have been camping that weekend. Boys should stop in with their parents and check us out.

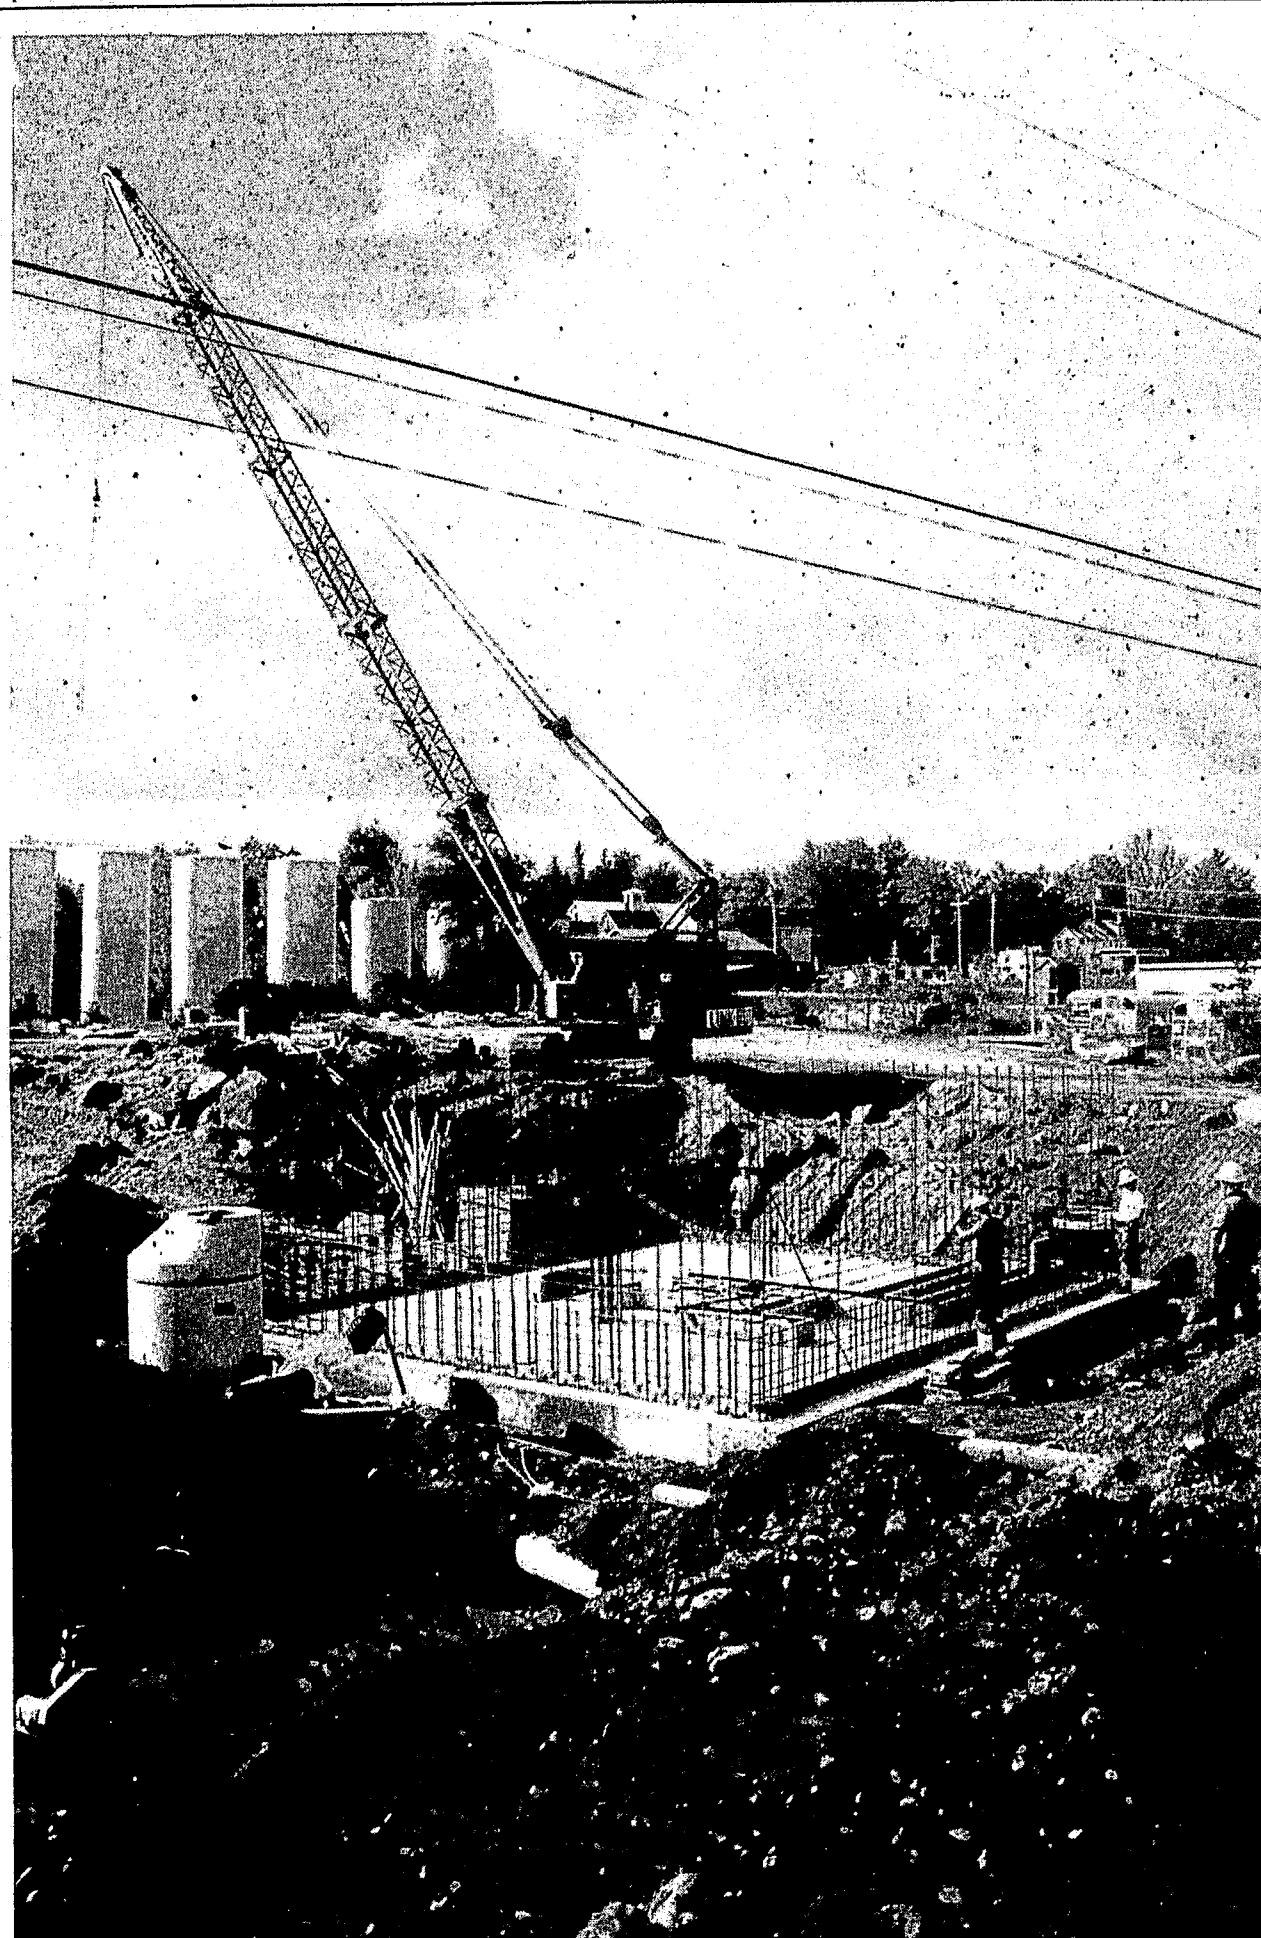

The second reason I am writing is to get information on the history of the Bethel Boy Scout Troop. Anyone who can give us any information, particularly to how old the troop is, past scout masters, members, projects, sponsoring organizations, or anything else would be appreciated.

If anyone has any information for us, please write to me at RR 1 Box 673, Bethel, ME 04217 or call 824-3611.

'I question where that spike might get lodged.'

DON BENNETT
Bethel Selectman, on possible sewer system rate increases

"It's hard for us to say users are going to get a 30 percent increase."

And faced with the prospect of a sharp "spike" in the fees if they cannot be ramped up gradually, selectman Don Bennett said:

"I question where that spike might get lodged."

The proposed FY99 budget contains approximately $130,000 in capital improvements ("a fairly typical yearly amount," Tarr said).

One option under consideration for moderating the rate of increase is to keep that money in the budget but reduce actual expenses to only necessary items.

The money saved, Tarr said, could then be put toward reducing subsequent rate increases.

The boards hope to decide on the new budget in time for the adjusted rates to be reflected in the quarterly water bills that are due to go out this month.

If that cannot be accomplished, the then increase will be that much higher when the next bills go out in January.

The minimum quarterly sewer bill in Bethel is currently $71.67. The average annual bill for most households is just under $350, according to Town Office staff.

The Oct. 5 meeting of the two boards will take place at 7 p.m. in the Town Office meeting room. It is open to the public.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Citizen welcomes letters to the editor. We hope our readers will regard the Opinion Page of the newspaper as a public forum for discussing any topic they believe to be of interest to the community.

Insofar as possible, we attempt to publish letters without alteration, but we do reserve the right to edit for length, libel, taste and readability.

We do not knowingly publish letters that have been submitted to other newspapers, or letters to third parties, or letters which endorse products, or letters which are unsigned. These guidelines will be waived, however, when doing so is deemed to be in the community's interest.

In the case of letters which are critical of individuals, businesses, institutions or other identifiable groups, the pertinent text of the letter (but not the name of the writer) will be sent prior to publication to the appropriate party for response. This policy is in the interest of fairness, allowing the criticized party to have their reply published at the same time as the criticism.

In situations where the letter writer has a political, economic, familial or other relationship that could be perceived as bearing on the topic addressed in the letter, we strongly suggest that the writer make that relationship known in the text of the letter or after their signature. OUR BACK PAGES

Compiled by POLLY DAVIS

10 years ago: Water from the Bethel water system was judged the best of those entered in a drinking water taste test sponsored by Maine Rural Water Association.

"Try to Remember" was the theme of Gould Academy's Alumni Weekend. One of the events of the weekend was the dedication of the Anderson and Bowhay athletic fields.

Staff at West Bethel Children's Center included Donna Richard-Morton, director; associate teachers Cindy Mills, Martha Gammon and Tracy Grover; Lisa Fox, teacher; Ann Roy, cook; and Maryvonne Wheeler, community service.

Ted Lawrence and Bonnel Gardner were listed as new faculty at Gould Academy.

Connie St. Pierre, president and founder of "Tourmaline Music" and manager of The Outlook recording studio on the Rumford Road, was selected for inclusion in Marquis "Who's Who in Entertainment."

Births: Linda Mahar, Jillian Kimball.

20 years ago: Dan Vogt and John Applin finished ninth and 16th, respectively in the Casco Bay Marathon held in Portland.

Fitz Vail, Class of 1907 at Gould Academy, received the Alumnus of the Year award.

"The Base Camp," a combination restaurant and lounge near the Sunday River Skiway, was totally destroyed in an early morning fire, with total loss estimated at $400,000.

Marriages: Terri Mason and Lee Blake, Darlene Hanscom and Peter Leeman.

30 years ago: New faculty at Gould Academy were Madame Jacqueline Margaritopol of France, language, and Donald Ladiou, history.

Robert Brown of East Bethel was notified he had won an award for Fast Sharpshooter in the Little North American Pistol League in Montreal, Canada.

The Rev. George Stebbins was building a garage at the Methodist Parsonage, Mason Street, Bethel, from wood donated by Richard Davis.

Garey and Dorothy York were honored at two surprise parties in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary, one by Mr. and Mrs. William Von Zintl at Martha's Restaurant, Main Street (now Finish Line Pizza) and the second celebration at the home of Richard and Barbara Bryant by their daughter and son-in-law, Sharon and Peter Kaiser of Keene, N.H.

Births: Judy Bailey, Sue Fraser, Emily Gammon, Gerald Nowlin Jr., Daniel Myers, Donald Whitman III.

Marriages: Dolores Hebert and Charles Coffin, Marcia Stewart and Stephen Meisner, Joyce Farwell and Roland Morin.

40 years ago: Those listed as having chicken pox included Danna Brown, Michael Heino, Wayne Davis, Scott Annis, Lee Blake and Stephen Blake.

Mrs. Mabel Greenleaf entertained her Sunday School class with a cookout supper. Attending were Jane Luxton, Carol Flint, Martha Keniston, Mary Sweetser, Cynthia Freeman, Linda Paine, Elinor Mills, Norma Sloan, Charlene Swain, and Cheryl Grenier.

Jason and Phyllis Smith were guests of honor at a surprise party at the home of their daughter and husband, Norton and Phyllis Cross, in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary.

The Gould Academy Student Council selected the following girls to serve as cheerleaders: varsity, Jane Greig, Sue Saunders, Susan Martin, Gloria Kneeland and Pamela Young; J.V., Sharon York, Sally Burns, Janet Hill, Susan Brown, Deede McCann.

Birth: Barbara Jean York.

Deaths: Auranus Morrill, Nathan Sacks, Herbert Duran.

50 years ago: Dairymen Roy C. Blake, E.S. Buck & Son, E.E. Luxton and William McKenzie filed a protest and a petition to the Milk Control Board for the price of milk to be cut to 19 cents a quart from the board's established price of 21 cents.

Hilda Donahue was elected noble grand of Sunset Rebekah Lodge.

Birth: David Wight.

Marriage: Roberta Gibson and Robert Smith.

Deaths: Florence Twitchell, Walter Russ, Lt. Lloyd Chapin.

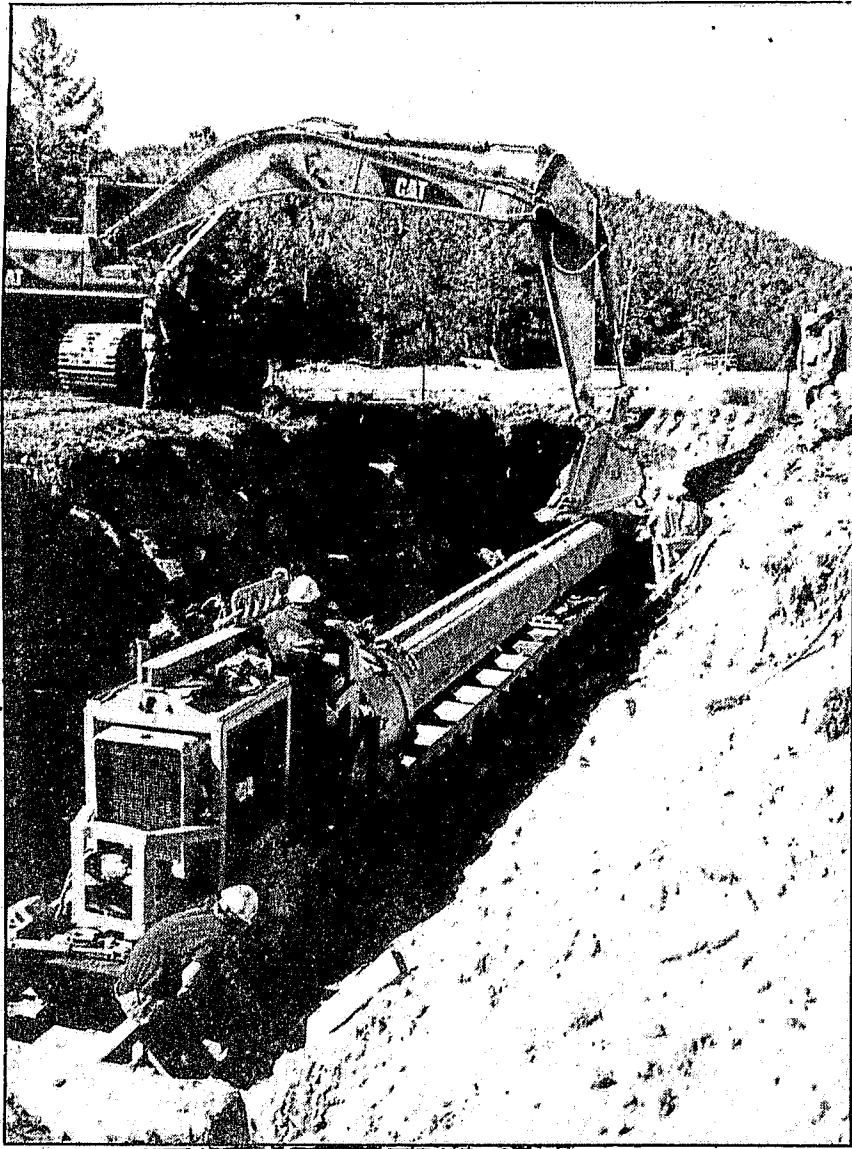

100 years ago: New Gould Academy catalogs were available and were described as "a credit to the institution."

Irving and Roscoe Clark were determining the height of various Bethel landmarks; for example, the Bethel Station was 643 feet above sea level, the West Bethel Railroad Station was 668 1/2 feet above sea level.

Death: Hattie A. Bacon.

Pipeline

THE DRILLERS--While much of the pipework on the PNGTS project has been completed in the Bethel area, this crew is still at work in Albany boring under Route 35 to make way for the 24-inch main line pipe. The connection to the 12-inch Rumford lateral pipe will also be made at this location. (Photo by Alison Aloisio)

Rumford area.

"We met and talked about what was expected of everybody," said Mullen, "because there are a number of different players and people who oversee the project, and actual construction crews."

"We get everyone at the same place and talk about these things and it worked quite well since then."

Homeowner reviews

Elsie Bonney lives on the Paris Road in Bethel, and has watched work on the lateral pipeline take place within a hundred feet of her house.

Although the construction "is nothing I would have asked for," she said, "all things considered, it's not too bad."

Crews quickly smoothed the soil after burying pipe, and "they've seeded and got grass growing already," she said.

The work seemed to take longer than she expected, however, Bonney said.

Nesta Littlefield of Bethel lives in an area near Route 26 where the pipeline route runs by wetlands. From her observation, Littlefield said, the contractors have been very conscientious about placing silt fences, hay bales and signs warning trucks to stay away from the wetland site.

The pipeline also crossed her home's water line, about 500 feet from her house. The contractors notified her when they would be digging in the area, and did the work by hand around her pipe. "They were very good about it," she said.

But Wally Hannigan, who lives on the Intervale Road and has been a vocal opponent of the pipeline project for safety reasons, said the work in her area "didn't look like the pictures of a typical construction site" that PNGTS displayed at public meetings during the approval stage.

The work, she said, took up more space than the pictures indicated, and -- contrary to what she said was stated by the company -- the Intervale Road had more than one lane at a time blocked.

(June memos among the contractors indicated FERC had, a similar concern on Route 35 in Albany. The memos outlined the contractors' efforts to restrict activity to one lane.)

Hannigan also said that because she filed as an intervenor in the project, she has received paperwork that includes regular accounts of noncompliance with environmental requirements.

Still, Hannigan said, "in some places they did a real good job," including making good on a promise to preserve some mature trees near the line in her area.

However, her original objections to the pipeline remain. They lie less with the surface appearance than with what now lies unseen underground -- the line runs within 10 to 15 feet of her house, and she is still concerned about the danger of explosion.

The pipeline project is scheduled to be completed in November, according to a spokesman for Bechtel, one of the contractors on the project.

OPEN GROUND--Although some erosion control violations have been reported in connection with the pipeline project, the Department of Environmental Protection is now "fairly comfortable" with environmental measures, in the words of DEP's Mike Mullen. (Photo by Alison Aloisio)

From the Bethel Police log:

Alcohol, pot keep police busy

At 11:03 p.m. on Sept. 23 police observed a pickup truck operating left of the center line at the intersection of Main and Railroad streets. When the officer tried to stop the vehicle, it turned around and stopped in a parking lot. The driver and passenger then fled. A search of the vehicle produced a small pipe with a usable amount of marijuana and a clip. The items were confiscated and the vehicle impounded. Police planned to issue a summons to the operator, Walter Connel III, for operating left of center, possession of a usable amount of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia.

Thursday, Sept. 24

At 12 noon a juvenile subject was charged in connection with a shoplifting incident at two Main Street businesses.

Friday, Sept. 25

At 9:40 a.m. a driver was stopped for traveling 50 miles per hour in a 35 m.p.h. zone on Route 2. A license check showed it had expired in 1996. An insurance card had expired in June of 1998. Tobias O. Parker, 23, of Locke Mills was issued a summons for each violation.

Saturday, Sept. 26

At 12:35 a.m. a subject was stopped on the Sunday River Road for spinning his tires. He showed signs of intoxication and was given field sobriety tests. Scott A. Hutchins, 27, of Scarborough was arrested for OUI and taken to Oxford County Jail. He refused a breath test, and was given a summons for OUI and unnecessary tire noise.

At 7:57 p.m. a vehicle was stopped in a driveway off Route 2. Marijuana and tobacco were found on the subject, and alcohol was found in the vehicle. The juvenile subject was summonsed for the offenses and released to his parents.

At 8:50 p.m. a subject was stopped for suspicious activity on the pipeline right of way near the Rabbit Road. He was found to be in possession of a large amount of beer and wine. Cylas A. Cash, 18, of Bryant Pond was summonsed for illegal transportation of alcohol by a minor. A passenger in the vehicle, Scott O. Palmer, 18, of Bryant Pond was also summonsed for possession of alcohol by a minor.

At 11:20 p.m. a motorist reported her vehicle had broken down on the Songo Pond Road, and an inebriated man had come up to her and offered her a ride. He was very persistent, but two other motorists stopped to assist the complainant.

At 11:45 p.m. a subject was stopped on Elm Street and given several field sobriety tests. Boyd Nolan Dickson, 47, (no address given) was arrested for OUI and taken to the Oxford County Jail.

Sunday, Sept. 27

At 6:30 p.m. police observed a juvenile with what appeared to be a pack of cigarettes in her pocket. When questioned, she admitted to the possession. A second subject also admitted to possession. Both were warned about the violation and released.

This report highlights points of interest from the Bethel Police Department log, but does not include all reports of police activity. To reach the Bethel Police Department, call 911 in emergency situations, 824-3437 in non-emergencies. An answering machine takes calls when an officer is not in the office.

Ginny and
spent the past week in Montana visiting Glacier National

Park, biking, sightseeing and train riding. Howard is a train buff and enjoyed being at Essex at the Inn which was near a trail yard with lots of trains.

Becky Kendall and Dottie Bartlett returned last week from a 15-day tour of Europe.

Last Sunday afternoon, Rita Davis, Kathy Autry and Phyllis Dock attended a bridal shower for Heidi Moore in Harrison at the home of Brenda Harrington. A demonstration of available culinary equipment by one of the guests, who was a salesperson for such products, was presented.

On Thursday, Sept. 24, a bull moose walked across the road from the Docks' field to a pond in the Penleys' field.

There will be a Yard Sale and Food Sale on Saturday, Oct. 3, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Greenwood Historical building on Main Street, Locke Mills. Donald Kimball will bring his cider press and make cider. There will be doughnuts for sale to go with the cider. The next dance will be Oct. 10.

Marion Chapman returned to her home in Heritage, Pa., Sunday after spending the summer with Mike and Barbara Brown.

Barbara D. Brown, G.A. '48, was named Alumna of the Year at the Gould Academy annual alumni luncheon last Saturday. The luncheon was held in the newly dedicated Ordway Hall.

Dick Paine of Keene, N.H., spent the weekend with his parents, Bud and Mary Paine, and attended the Gould Academy alumni activities.

Stephen and Carolyn Dock of Greenville, S.C., and Gretchen Dock of Boston were weekend guests of their parents, Norman and Phyllis Dock, and attended the Gould alumni activities throughout their stay.

John Stanley of Oxford, N.C., were recent guests of Rodney, Gerry and Stanley Howe.

Dinner guests of Rodney and Gerry Howe last Tuesday were Sandra Howe of Severn, Md., Claire Gillings of Scarborough, Tanya Housner of Columbia, Md., Linda Howe of Andover, and John Stanley of Oxford, N.C.

Walter and Phyllis Fales of All Gresham, Mich., Howard and Alice Fales of West Reading, Conn., and Ray and Judy Fales of Waitefield, Vt., visited their cousin Rodney Howe and his wife last Wednesday evening. They spent the week with Elderhostel at Sunday River Inn.

The 60th reunion of the Class of 1938 was held at the Moses Mason Meeting Room, with Sandy Smith catering the meal. One classmate, Arthur Haselton and his wife Vi of Arcadia, Fla., had not attended a reunion in 60 years. Others attending were Nancy Philbrook, Christie Thurston Knight, Jane Chapin Sullivan, Libbie Lyon Bane, Pip and Ada Cummings, Bob and Ginny '40 Keniston, Arlene Greenleaf Brown '39, Norman Johnson, John King, Sally King, Rodney and Geraldine Howe and Kathleen Bean.

Jim and Vera Leighton Heckard of Oakland visited Eleanor and Don Brooks over the weekend.

Greg Howe of Severn, Md., was a weekend guest of his parents, Rodney and Gerry Howe.

Weekend guests of Mike and Barbara Brown were Robert Millett of Umatilla, Fla., Karen Brown-Mohr and children Josh and Alexandra of Portland, and Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Brown of East Longmeadow, Mass.

Cub Scout Troop 566 will hold a bottle drive on Oct. 17 and a Popcorn Sale on Oct. 27.

Grandparents' Day will be held at Crescent Park School on Oct. 2.

Crescent Park Open House will take place on Oct. 7 from 6:30 to 8 p.m.

It was good to see many former "Bethelites" back for the Gould Academy Alumni Weekend and dedication of the new Ordway Hall located behind Gehring Hall. Some of the people your correspondent saw were: Dick Waldron, Rachel Gordon, Roger Adams, Ed Dorion, Carolyn Wight Harrison, Virginia Walker, Jim and Julia Bennett, Alan Curtis, Bud and Barbara Kneeland, Dr. William O'Brien, Clifton Jackson Sr., Barry York.

Pastor Rick's message for Sunday morning, Sept. 20, was entitled "Foundations for Life." There was a very nice attendance. There was special piano music by Tracy Gibbs -- she does a very nice job.

The church picnic on the afternoon of the 19th was well attended and everyone seemed to have lots of fun. I know I did. John and I played cribbage and he won two out of three games. Lisa and Joyce also played cribbage. There were other games, too. Rudy Royer, with help from others, grilled hamburgers and hot dogs. Those attending had brought salads and dessert. Coffee and cold drinks were furnished by the church. The mosquitoes did not move in until we were about ready to leave. The weather was just great. It was really a great fun time. I vote to do it again next summer at the same place.

I rode to Shop 'n Save with John Kallis one day recently and I enjoyed it very much. It is so nice to have a chance to get out.

Helena Bartlett had her son, Paul, visit her recently.

Tom Russell visited his mother, Irene, recently.

Jean Palanza was at the Bethel House on Tuesday mowing the lawn and calling on the residents. We were all very sorry to hear that Don Robinson had fallen, and broken his ankle. That was why Jean had to mow the lawn.

Vada Glover visited me on Tuesday and we played cribbage, and now for the first time in some time I am leading, but by only one game. We have played 895 games. We had a lovely dinner at the Rebel Family Restaurant in West Bethel. That is our favorite one in Bethel. We rode up to the Head of the Tide Cemetery in Newry and then up to Screw Auger Falls.

Pastor Rick attended a District and Prayer Conference in Attleboro, Mass., last week.

"Love can bottle the heat of July to warm the chill of December."

"A home town is where the great are small and the small are great."

"Quite often a man thinks his mind is getting broader, it's only his conscience stretching."

The right angle to approach a difficult problem is "the try angle."

Dorothy Bartlett returned last week from an enjoyable tour of seven European countries.

Reg Andrews of Halifax, Nova Scotia, is visiting at the Bartlett Homestead.

Stan and Esther Wilson, "Butch" Crockett and Gloria Wilson went to the Farmington Fair on Sept. 20.

Esther Wilson attended a baby shower for Kelly Crockett on Sept. 26 in Newry.

Edward Woodard and wife of Vermont visited Polly Smith recently. She is a cousin of Polly's. They took Polly for a seafood dinner in Auburn.

Amy and Ken Scribner went with Mary Bean and Arthur Hertell to the Summit Hotel on Sept. 26 for Amy's and Mary's 45th-year class reunion at Gould Academy.

Carolyn Grant of Winterport visited Leslie Noyes and Nina Mollicone on Sept. 25 to 27. While here she attended her 50-year class reunion at Gould Academy.

Peter Haines and Nancy Mercer attended their 40-year class party at the Suds on Sept. 25.

Peter Mason and his family have moved to their new home in West Bethel. Someone moved in right off to rent.

Diana Howe returned from a trip to Spain late on the 27th. She loved Spain and wants to go back.

George and Ginny Gamble of Hanover, N.H., visited Florence Hastings on Sept. 26 and 27. Their new house on paradise is coming along. They hope to move in by late November.

Floribel Haines is doing well at Ledgeview Nursing Home.

George Haines returned from working four days in Massachusetts on Sept. 27. He leaves Monday for Cleveland and returns on Sept. 29.

The weather has been very nice. It was real warm for Gould's Alumni Weekend.

I miss the old Walker homeplace where I spent my first dozen years. Of all the places I've been this one, even if gone now, is the most familiar in my mind. When we are children we hopefully have many pleasant hours exploring and just being in our surroundings. We can fully engage ourselves in what we are doing with no worry about money and time constraints.

I lived in a busy household with four other people and a dog and cat and some dozen farm critters. When the hubbub got to me, there were many nooks and crannies around the farmhouse and connected sheds where I could find a patch of sunlight or dappled light in which to disappear. I would sit alone and let my mind wander away to foreign places and ideas.

I often would contemplate my life and the meaning of all life and how events fit together in a long string of time. My own history was very significant and then there was the time of my parents with the blackouts and rationing and uniformed men coming and going to war. Grandparents spoke of a time before the automobile and hospitals when life seemed to be really hard word but meaningful.

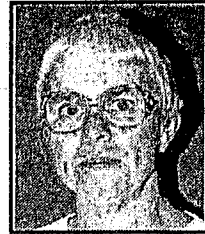

I knew about the setting of this country and the struggles west from the old black and white films. Accurate or not these images were strong in my mind and I would replay them over and over trying to understand history and thinking about the future.

When I was in ninth grade, I was not ready to study ancient history as I couldn't relate or remember all 300 dates and the names of men who conquered and killed each other. Historians have split Western history into three periods of time to form chief divisions. There are (1) Ancient Times--3,000 B.C. to the A.D. 400's, (2) Medieval Times--the 400's to the 1,500's, and (3) Modern Times--the 1,500's to the present. Why can't we leave it at that.

History and violent/lascivious, (I've wanted to use this word), current events should be shared when children are older and ready to explore the bigger picture of life. I don't believe kids should be subjected to events on the radio and television screen such as the Vietnam War scenes we endured as children or the horrendous Zippergate scandal our national leaders have thrown all about us. It is all too much for children to cope with ... OK, it's too much for me to cope with ... it's time for me to find my quiet place in the sun and contemplate.

Franklin Grange 124 met on Monday, Sept. 21, for Agriculture Night with 28 members and one guest.

present. Anna Woodworth gave the CWA Committee a scarecrow and some kittens she had made to sell. The scarecrow was put up for sale and was won by Ralph Hoyt. It was voted to have the chimney fixed and to get an estimate on the ceiling. Bertha announced the flu clinic at West Paris Grange has been changed to Oct. 26 and the rabies clinic is Oct. 31. It was voted to start the meetings at 7 p.m. starting in November through the winter months and to have any suppers during that time at 6 p.m. December, January, February and March only one meeting a month will be held. It will be the first Monday of the month, unless there is a snowstorm. The program was as follows: opening thought, Bertha Benoit; song by all, "Shine on Harvest Moon"; speaker was introduced, Judy Berg from Buckfield who spoke on the 1998 Ice Storm and damage to the trees; Peggy, Laura and Russell had a good skit; song by all, "Bringing in the Sheaves"; poem, "Autumn," written by Bertha, read by Alice; music by Dot Canwell, Richard Felt and Bertha Benoit; closing song by all and "Happy Birthday" was sung by all to Althea Fish and Olive Risko. The next meeting is Oct. 5 and it is Legislative Night.

Bryant Pond Hour on Channel IV TV is 7 p.m. on Thursday and 9 a.m. on Saturday.

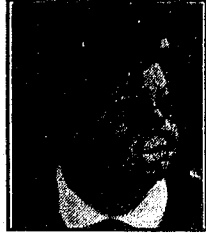

The Woodstock Elementary School is still collecting flip top can tops for the Shriners. They are also collecting cereal box tops and Campbell's soup labels. Please save these for them. Grandparents' Day will be held on Friday, Oct. 2, at 1 p.m. A Halloween party is being planned for Friday, Oct. 30.

The Woodstock High School Alumni Assoc. will meet on Oct. 13, Tuesday, at 7 p.m. to plan the November Senior Citizens dinner. Anyone is welcome to come. This meeting is a tasting party at the home of Alice Hoyt.

The Woodstock Historical Society values the customs and traditions of New England. Not everything about the past was perfect, by any means, but there is still much we can learn from it. The Twitchell family gave a fine wedding dress to the society. The museum has outstanding collections. Curator Larry Billing received the door prize from the Bethel Historical Society recently. Thanks.

West Paris

by

The Harvest Supper last Friday evening at the Historical Society building was well attended and profitable.

The Parisians furnished old-time music for dancing, which was enjoyed by all.

The Parisians will be entertaining at Fryburg Fair on Tuesday, Oct. 6, which is Senior Citizens Day. They will entertain from 11 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1:15 to 2:15 p.m. Seniors get in free.

On Monday, 20 members and eight guests attended the West Paris Historical Society potluck supper and meeting. As usual the food was delicious. The speaker was Dr. Barry Knopp. He told us of his 30-day adventure with his brother into the wilds of Alaska 19 years ago. They canoed on the mighty Yukon River, sleeping in tents and cooking over an open fire. Everyone enjoyed his talk.

The next meeting will be held Oct. 19 with Milton and Eleanor Inman and Connie Bacon in charge of supper. Plans are being made for the Hunter's Breakfast to be on Oct. 31.

Lisa Latno spent five days last week in Colorado Springs, Colo., where UNUM sponsored the 1998 World Cycling Championships for the disabled. They held an essay contest open to all UNUM America employees. Approximately 4,500 were eligible to enter. Ten winners were selected and went to Colorado as "Business Hosts." The essay was about Independent Living. "What it means to me, UNUM and our customers." "I was honored to be selected to represent my company." Thirty countries were represented.

Ginny and Bill Aridas returned to Holbrook, N.Y., on Monday.

Vern and I attended the 87th Infantry Reunion for three days last week in Birmingham, Ala. The weather was beautiful.

Eleanor Bunker and Everett Jr. were overnight guests of her sister, Lena Dean, on Wednesday.

Joyce Lamb went to Bar Harbor Thursday morning to spend the weekend with daughter Judy. On Saturday they will meet Peggy Lamb of Palermo and Allen Lamb of Santa Fe, N.M., and all will attend the Common Ground Fair.

The West Paris Senior Citizens will be gathering on Wednesday, Oct. 7, to have lunch at the Chick-a-Dee in Turner. Members are to meet in the Baptist Church parking lot at 11 a.m.

Much sympathy is extended to the family of Gordon Stevens upon his death. He will be sorely missed.

Greenwood City

by Colista Morgan As mornings dawn, fluffy gray blankets hang over the swamps and swales. Patches of fog dot our Patch Mountain but as the sun lifts above Noyes Mountain these patches begin to stir, then lift and disappear. I notice that the colors of birches and maples are soft and subdued. But as the sun climbs, the color changes from neutral to a yellow-green, then amber, and at last they shine like golden candles in the sun's slanting rays; a picture to recall again and again.

A country lane is one of the most appealing of nature's pictures. It seems homey and friendly. There is not the grandeur of the ledge-topped mountains or the sweep of hillsides. But don't we appreciate the small and familiar more than the grand and awesome? Our little country way leads through a private, personal path to pastures, hillsides, groves and to woodlots on slopes.

Here the stonewalls resemble gray stitching among the goldenrods' heads. Evening sunsets are really beautiful. I watch the colors come and go until at last they disappear into the pond, lost forever. Another day closes.

There were two weddings in the family of Rena Curtis on Saturday.

Fay Holt and Zilpha DiArenzo joined three others of their graduating class from WPHS, 1936, for dinner on Wednesday.

Timmy Curtis was at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Curtis, during the week.

Mason Township

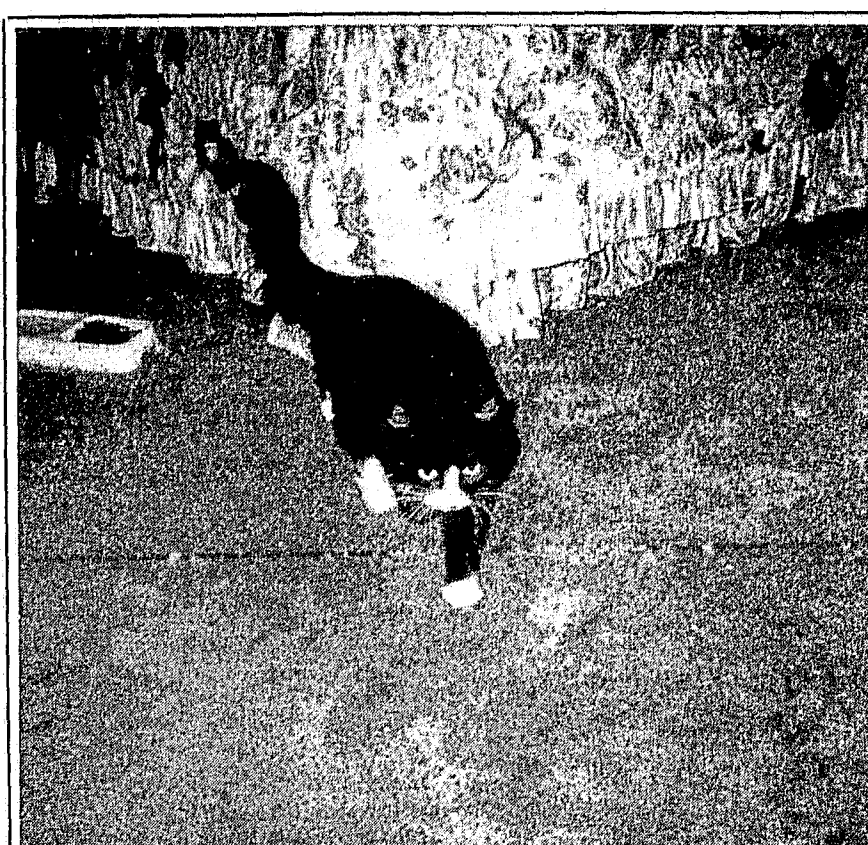

by Richard Grover Mona and I got back from a two-week vacation last Friday afternoon, just in time to get ready to meet my old classmates from Gould Academy Class of '58 on the 40th anniversary of our graduation. It's fun to acquaint yourself with old friends (well, not that old) and try to guess who everybody else is, who has changed the most, and stuff like that. Of course, we had to make it to this one, because Al Ordway, for whom the new dining facility is named, was in the Class of '58, and was our class president, too. He was a good guy back then, and at least the people at Gould think he still is. I had to say that, because Al told me he reads my column every week.

We enjoyed our trip, although there was a lot more driving than I really like to do in such a short time. We began with a visit with my daughter, Anita, in Eagan, just outside Minneapolis. She lives in one of those secure apartment buildings which has a locked outer door even before you get to the hallway leading to the apartments. As a result, you either have to have a key to get in, or phone and have an occupant greet you at the door. Since we didn't have a key, we phoned from a pay phone at a nearby Texaco station. Of course, the line was busy, and it was 9:30 p.m. I kept trying until about 10:30, and it was still busy. Thinking she was probably talking to her boyfriend, and might be for some time, we decided to find a motel for the night. We finally found one, and started to check in, when the clerk there explained she could have the operator check on Anita's phone to see if anyone were talking; this was done, and nobody was talking. Phone off the hook. To make a long story short, we finally gave up on waking her and went to bed in the motel at about 12:30 a.m., exhausted. We finally contacted Anita and met her for lunch the next day.

A couple days with Anita, and we flew to Denver to visit my son Dean's family, getting reacquainted with the twins. A couple days there, and it was back to Minneapolis, and the nine-hour drive to daughter Cheryl's place in Mahomet, Ill. A couple days there, making of the new granddaughter and playing with the other two grandkids, and we headed back to Maine, planning to get back Friday afternoon. We departed Mahomet at about 6:45 a.m. Thursday, determined to make it past Toronto, Ontario, before we stopped that night, so we could make it home in about 10 hours Friday. We hit the outskirts of Toronto on the expressway just after dark and whizzed around the expressway in the midst of about eight lanes of traffic going in both directions, not my idea of a fun experience with everyone going 70 mph or faster.

By about 8:30 p.m., we were past Toronto, tired and ready for a night's sleep. We pulled off the expressway at an exit that had a Comfort Inn in sight. When we checked there, the prices were a little high for our budget, so we went to another motel next door, the Dynasty Inn in Oshawa, Ontario. It wasn't as fancy looking, but it appeared clean, and we just wanted a place to sleep, and the price was more in line with our wallets. We asked for a room on the ground floor or near a stairway because we had two bicycles on a bike rack, which could not be secured on the car, and we wanted to take them into the room with us. We were given a room on the second level, right next to the stairway and about halfway down the long side of the building, with

LOOKING FOR A GOOD HOME

THIS IS BOBBY SOCKS. She is a stray from Berlin, N.H. An elderly woman fed her in her shed all summer. She had four kittens six weeks ago, but two of them died shortly after they were born. Bobby and her two kittens have been living with Dick and Kathy Farren in West Bethel for the last month. She is a very sweet, loving cat. She will be spayed on Oct. 1 and will be ready to go to a new home. One of the kittens has been adopted. The other one is ready to go any time. Anyone who is interested in adopting Bobby or her baby, is asked to call Kathy at 836-2735 or 824-2212.

an outside entrance at the foot of the stairs. I left Mona in the room while I removed the bikes from the rack and brought them to the room. In the process I noticed a taxi pull up alongside our car, an unaccompanied young lady in very short shorts getting out and going into the side entrance of the motel. A little odd, I thought.

After sprucing up, we left the room to find a place to eat. The bar in the basement of the motel had a grill, but it was a little noisy and smoky for our taste, so we found another restaurant down the street. As we left the motel parking lot, we noticed a small sign we hadn't seen before, saying something like, "Table top dancers nightly." Then, when we returned from the restaurant, we noted two police cars pulling out of the Dynasty Inn parking lot. I told Mona then that I had some suspicions about this place. But it was quiet in our room, and we proceeded to shower and get ready for bed. As I was getting into bed, Mona, who was closer to the door, said, "Rich, there is someone at the door." I got up and went to the door, and, sure enough, there was a light tapping on the other side. Being inherently brave, I said, "Who is there?" From the other side came a sexy sounding feminine voice, "Hi, would you like some company?" or something like that. Dumb me said, "I'm already accompanied." Mona told me I should have at least opened the door to see what she looked like.

Now, like all good stories, there is a moral to this one, and it is:

Sometimes you can have more fun being a cheapskate.

East Stoneham

by Eleanor Nelson
Hi readers. On Sept. 17, Thursday, I visited Wilma Taylor and Al Yemma at the Norway Convalent Center and had a nice visit with each of them. I haven't been out around much this past week so don't have much news to offer.

I did go to church this past Sunday and was pleased to see Georgia and Raynor Brown there. They do well to get out around.

It is still very dry out and people's wells are low right now. We do need the rain.

I have a correction to make. In one of my columns I told about going to a new restaurant called Crooked River Restaurant and Variety. The restaurant is Beanie's Diner and Variety and is on Route 118 in Waterford. We have been going there and found it to be good.

I was busy last week making piccalilli (green tomato relish) and sweet pickles and canning tomatoes. They will taste good this next winter when the wind and snow are blowing. They taste good now.

Crystal Lord is now living at 35 Hillstreet Commons, Apt. 7, in South Paris. Her phone number is 743-7514, if her friends would like to get in touch with her.

There was a church meeting on Sept. 16 at the East Stoneham Church Vestry with 11 members present. Sunday School will begin on Oct. 18, also church services at East Stoneham Church will be held during the month of October. If different, I will let you know. At this meeting a donation was given to help reach the goal of $1,000 for the summer Thrift and Bake Sales for the church.

Don't forget the Harvest Supper on Thursday, Oct. 1. Shall we see you there? This is the New England boiled dinner with corned beef and cabbage, etc., which is always good.

Laurence and Mildred Dadmun from Damariscotta were here at their home this past weekend and called on us one evening.

Don't you like these nice cool, brisk fall days? I do.

Clyde Millett was here this past week mowing the fields around the house. It makes it look much better. Shirley Grant from Mechanic Falls visited Frances Grant this past weekend.

"Asta" had to go to the local vet., Dr. Terry Michols-Nunes, for a checkup this past week. Her elbow needed treatment. That is why she has been wearing a T-shirt this week to cover it over.

Andover

The sophomore class of the Andover Education Fund will be holding a bottle drive on Saturday, Oct. 3.

For more information, contact Kelly Scotti or Sue Swasey. If you are going to be away and would like to leave bottles aside for them -- please mark them.

The Andover Elementary School is holding an Open House this evening, Oct. 1, from 6 to 7:30 p.m. This will be a time for the community to visit the school, see classrooms, view students' work, meet the staff, and take notice of all the wonderful changes in the building. All are welcome.

The Andover Parent Teacher organization (APT) is in the process of defining what the goals and purpose of this group should be for the upcoming school year. They have put out a survey and would like the input of parents and community members. The collected surveys will be read at the next APT meeting, which will be held Oct. 27. APT plans to meet the fourth Friday of the month for the remainder of the school year. Your thoughts, ideas, and concerns are greatly needed. For more information, contact Kelly Scotti or the school at 392-4381.

The Calvary Congregational Church will hold its annual Sunday School Rally Day this Sunday, Oct. 4, with the Howe's Gospel Team. There will be special music and wonderful Bible stories using large flannel figures. The Sunday School hour is from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. The Howes will also share music in the morning worship service at 10:45 and there will be a fellowship dinner following at noon. All are invited to attend.

The Andover Eagles soccer team will play a home game against Crescent Park School on Monday, Oct. 5.

A Spiritual Journey of Gospel Music will be held at the First Congregational Church of Andover on Oct. 17 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and Oct. 18 from 1 to 3 p.m. There will be a Saturday evening Potluck and Community Sing at 5:30 p.m. Sunday Worship, featuring music from the retreat. Come experience worship and music from Africa as it traveled through the Caribbean to the United States. The event will include spirituals, gospel music, handbells, retreat leader Betty Burbank, and the Burlington, Vt., "Psalms of Joy" Praise Band.

Sunday/Monday School of the First Congregational Church will begin Monday, Oct. 5, at the CEB. All school-age children welcome.

There will be a holiday sale at the CEB on Saturday, Oct. 24, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. There will be crafts, bake sale, drawing of the Kaleidoscope quilt, and much more.

The final horse show of the season for the Ellis River Riders will be held Sunday, Oct. 4, at 9 a.m.

Robert and Violet Swain returned home on Sept. 20 after spending five days in Dedham, Mass., attending the seventh annual reunion of the 78th Troop Carriers Squadron. Robert was commissioned a Kentucky Colonel by Gov. Paul Patton. The award was presented by the widow of the squadron president, who died July 30 in a traffic accident but had recommended five men from the unit, and a son, Robert J. Swain, who resides in Kentucky.

Others who have received this honor have been President Lyndon Johnson, Prime Minister Winston Churchill, John Glenn, Bing Crosby, and Red Skelton. The highest honor awarded by the state of Kentucky is "Kentucky Colonel." A Colonel is an ambassador of good will and fellowship around the world and is presented for "service and accomplishments on behalf of your fellow man."

Upton

by Eleanor LeComte

Autumn is here in all her glory. There is a flurry of activity to do chores in preparation for the cool weather ahead. It is no longer rare to see smoke rising from chimneys in the morning, but the remainder of the day usually has very fine weather. On Sunday evening we had a thunderstorm and heavy rain. The Lavalley boys are busy putting a new roof on their mother's house, while down the street the Yarnells are also treating themselves to a new roof. Other signs of winter preparations are afoot with wood splitting and piling. Pat Lewit has a good looking woodpile being split by Kier Simmons. Fred Bilodeau has initiated construction of the first unit of his motel at "Windsong Gardens."

Our master wall builder, Ray Bernier and his assistant, Gary Crosby, have almost finished a beautiful wall at the home of Jeanette and Lionel Roy on the East B Hill Road. You will remember that Ray is the artist that built the wall at the Moose Tale (Brewery) on Route 26 in Bethel. Ray has built many walls in Maine and Cape Cod. His skill and artistry is known in both states.

Visitors in town this week were Dwight and Joanne Williamson and Diane Williamson. From Mankato, Minn., Joan and Terry Nelson spent some time with Sue and Larry Nelson. Being from the land of "Ten Thousand Lakes," they are quite at home on Lake Umbagog. We were all happy to see Carolyn and Carl Taylor back home in Upton. Carl is still unable to bear weight on his bad leg but is progressing well. Again, the neighbors banded together to take the Taylors' boat out of the water and provide winter shelter for it. Those involved were Terry and Larry Nelson, Gene and Sandy Wixom, and, oh yes, Ellie LeComte directed traffic.

The bird of the week was spotted by Elsie Fuller -- a wild turkey. Elsie decided the bird needed to fatten up for Thanksgiving. We know Elsie would rather have a "Butterball" from the IGA.

Geese have been flying over fairly regularly, an omen of things to come.

Sunday morning, Evelyn Kenny spotted a big bull moose swimming across the lake. She quickly alerted the neighbors, who enjoyed the wonderful sight.

Paul Casey and his dad are busy this week working on renovations at the Winter House.

The town received a wonderful gift this week from Donald Scott. He presented the town with the new street signs and the posts to mount them on. As if that was not enough, he also donated the money to purchase concrete for the bases. Thank you, Donald.

We didn't receive any donations to the Bell Tower this week, but we have a few promises in the wings.

I bought a new car this week. Proud as punch, I showed it to my neighbor, George Hamel. I was quickly humbled when George exclaimed, "Ellie you washed your car." Pride cometh before a fall...

North Newry

by Gil Seeley

Ras Bachelder celebrated his 73rd birthday recently with a free lunch at Cap'n Newicks in South Portland. Those also in attendance were wife Karlene, Gil Seeley, Ras' daughter, Claire Romano, and husband George of California, daughter Heidi Littlefield of West Bethel with husband Arlan and children Julie and Jody, granddaughter Michelle Josephson with husband Paul and son Nikolaus of Cumberland, grandson Tom O'Donnell and friend Shannon Begin of Portland. A good time was had by all with plenty of good seafood. Be sure to ask Gil about what a matchmaker the waitress was.

The next day, the same crowd, with several other friends, gathered at the Josephsons' house in Cumberland for a surprise 50th birthday party for Claire (Bachelder) Romano, formerly of Newry. The surprise, of course, was on her since her birthday isn't until November. Although she had planned to still be in California for the big day, this reporter has learned that she and husband George will be moving back to Maine in the next month.

Jeannette Truworthy Weatherby of Liverpool, N.Y., was a guest of Ras and Karlene Bachelder recently. Jeannette was a 1963 graduate of Gould Academy.

Call to Worship at the Newry Community Church was held Sunday morning at 9 a.m. with Pastor Rodney Hanscom at the pulpit and daughter Nancy at the organ. Prelude was given by Jay Hanscom and responsive reading by Bob Munro. The Message of the Day was "Man's Worst Sin" from Ps. 197. "Then they cried unto the Lord in their trouble and he delivered them out of their distresses." There was a special by Gil Seeley, "You need never be old," and a Bible quiz. Hymns were sung and benediction done.

The Windy Valley Sno-mobile Club will meet Tuesday night, Oct. 6, at 7 p.m. at the Town Building.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lowell Sr. have returned home on Branch Road after spending four months at their home in Sterling, Alaska.

Karlene Bachelder, Gil Seeley, Eleanor Davis, Bea Lowell, Doris

Parent and Betsy Clark were at the Oxford Lanes in Rumford one day last week doing some bowling for fun. On the overall scores, Betsy was high on both the singles and triples, she had two spares, Eleanor one spare, Karlene one spare, Doris four spares and Bea one spare.

Winter must be on its way; I have seen quite a few blue jays and chickadees lately. Maybe they're just early. Rick Wing is working in Texas. He's been there for almost a month and says the weather is very hot. He works on the border between Texas and Mexico. Rick works for Yankee Microwave Co. that puts up towers for cellular phones and other things. We called and wished him a happy birthday Saturday night.

Sally Wing, who has worked at Keiser Homes for years, now is employed by Yankee Microwave Co. as a secretary.

Richard Wing is having a couple of days off from work this week. He's in hopes to get some of the winter things done before it gets any colder.

Sympathy goes out to the family and friends of Gordon Stevens who died this past week. He was well known in this area and will be missed by all.

Happy birthday to those celebrating in October: Dustin Tilley, Aaron Bean, Linsey Record, Rosalie Poland, Karen Wing, Laurie Cox, Roger Wilday, Jeannie Grover, Virginia Mason, Jerrold Mason, Lisa Ryerson, Matthew Ryerson, Chad Ryerson, Rhonda Yap, Benjamin Yap, Raymond Wilson, Brandon Yap, Chris Canulli, Don Mason Jr. and Darren Brown.

Anniversaries celebrated this month in October are: Jim and Evelyn Dunn, Pat and Wayne Lawrence, Jim and Kris Micon, Bruce and Donna Danforth, Ernie and Rhonda Yap, Robert and Margie Gleason. Best wishes to you all.

Quote of the Week: "I've learned that if you actually look like your driver's license photo, you aren't well enough to drive."

Larry Billings, curator, Woodstock Historical Society, reports that the society captures the essence of yesterday and makes it meaningful today. The members are very dedicated. Thanks to all who worked on the clothespin sign recently.

Sunday River Valley

by Rockie Graham
Fog turned the sun into a pale lunar-like disc as we intrepid travelers blazed our way toward the new owner-operated Common Ground Fairgrounds. Cars cruised by, seemingly out of nowhere, their shapes obscured by the thick morning fog. Dog eared Atlas and minimal directions on hand, we braved that early morning fog hoping to avoid hordes of other faithful fairgoers. The Common Ground Fair is an institution, a yearly reunion in some of our lives. My fellow traveler had not been to the fair since childhood and was excited to see it through newly formed adult eyes. Arriving with no mishaps and very little traffic, we parked our car and headed up a newly created woods path to the fairgrounds. Although there are many improvements to keep MOFGA going for the next 10 years or so, the grounds are beautiful, roomy, well laid out, with plans already begun to create a rural living teaching space that is like no other.

Although I saw few local people - just Nancy Hanson selling her trinkets outside the fairground and Dan Kenny, Carol Post and young 'uns - I did manage to meet up with my Fair friends, as planned. I also attended an herb talk on menopause, ate the great fair food, and listened to music. Our own Bill Shimamura played in one area and Joe Clark played and managed the stage in a natural amphitheater.

The weather, cool and overcast in the a.m. turned warm and sunny at noon. By about 5 p.m., we had visited all the booths and eaten all the food we could in one day and headed home. There was traffic leaving, but again it was not bad. I have heard complaints, but we timed it well. Then again, I have waited hours to get in or out of the Windsor Fairgrounds, so I was expecting the worst.

Condolences go out this week to Ed and Julie Daye. Ed's father passed away last week. You have our greatest sympathy.

We have been having delightful fall weather with fantastic frolicking winds. We even managed to fit in a few thunderstorms. Each time it rains, I wait for rivulets of purple to pour off my newly painted mailbox. I only hope that Jerry doesn't get purple fingers when he delivers the mail on a rainy day.

The first frost swept swiftly through the Valley even before the official arrival of autumn. It was not unexpected, being the latter part of September, and time to be moving into foliage season. I've seen some beautiful blazing oranges, already, but many trees, here, retain their green gowns and seem to be in no hurry to shed their tresses.

South Woodstock

by Andrea Wing
September has flown by and October is right around the corner. My daughter plans to come down for a few days in October. It's been a while since she's been here except for a couple afternoons when she and Jon were in Farmington for their niece, Crystal's, wedding in June. I'm glad she has employment, but she's not able to be as flexible with her time now.

You know winter is right around the corner. The trees are beginning to sport their fall colors and Andy just removed the air conditioner and replaced it with a double window. And soon the water will be frozen over and out come the snowmobiles. Summer has seemed very short this year, partly, I assume, because I sort of lost six weeks of spring following my accident. It seems as if all your senses are intent on healing and really aren't focused on what is going on outside. Anyhow, I am happy to report that my shoulder I injured a year ago in September is beginning to free up and I have much better usage of my arm. I can actually reach for something without having it hurt. I still can't get my arm up over my head very far but if other motions are getting easier, hopefully that will follow.

How many of you got to see the reruns of "Our Stories" and the first run of "The Farmer's Wife"?

They were both programs I thoroughly enjoyed. I joined PBS because of "Mystery." Over the years I think "Mystery" has changed a great deal and a lot of the stories I no longer enjoy, but there are other programs that make up the difference and those were some of them.

Andy and I were in Rumford Wednesday afternoon. We always set out in trepidation with that old truck but it seems to shake, wheeze and complain its way to and from wherever. The only one who seems to have complete confidence in it is Princess who sits up in my lap and thoroughly enjoys herself. I have yet to figure out just why she barks at some people and not others, but since she tends to bark more at women than men, I think maybe she is not as in awe of women as she is men. Maybe she thinks women are pushovers. I wonder where she could have gotten that idea.

This week at the

Moses Mason House

All members and friends of the Bethel Historical Society are reminded that the next monthly meeting will be held on Thursday, Oct. 1, in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Featured during the program portion of the meeting will be the annual "What's It?" where all those attending are asked to bring an item from the past which is unknown to the bearer as to use and/or name. Following this portion of the program, there will be a discussion of the current exhibit "The Way Life Should Be" and a video on Maine in the early years of the 20th century will be shown. Anyone interested in attending is cordially urged to do so.

Please reserve Saturday, Oct. 10, to attend the Bethel Historical Society's first annual Apple Festival, which will include a wide variety of traditional activities featuring apples. A full schedule will be published in next week's column.

The next issue of the society's quarterly, The Bethel Courier, will be published soon. Anyone wishing a complimentary copy should call the society at 824-2908 or 1-800-824-2910 or use e-mail (history@bdc.bethel.me.us).

From the

East Andover Community Club

The East Andover Community Club celebrated its 60th birthday on Sept. 14 in South Paris. Ten members of the 16 attended plus two guests, both former members.

Dorothy Arsenault and Jane Reed made corsages, floral baskets, and a centerpiece, which was given to the oldest charter member, Mrs. Lila Farrington of Rumford, who was unable to attend.

Mrs. Barbara G. Meisner, president, presented Violet (Peters) Swain with a corsage plus a yellow rose. She also presented her a plaque for the only charter member with 58 years of service. The plaque read: "Violet P. Swain - In appreciation for your many years of devoted work and commitment to the East Andover Community Club. It has been your devotion to the club that has kept it going for 60 years. All the members wish to say Thank You."

Mrs. Swain presented a booklet, compiled by her, to all present. This was 20 pages of 60 years' work and activities of the club from 1938 to 1998. She had made a similar booklet for the 40th and 50th years.

Other members attending were Dolly Jones, Marjorie Stinson, Mary Bailey, Lorena Simmons, Beatrice Schneider, Betty Moore, and guests Grace Simmons and Jeanette Chenery. Another charter member, Charlotte Sennett, of Rumford was unable to attend.

From the

Bethel Area C. of C.

Welcome to our newest members: Skidder's Deli, Main Street, Bethel, Joyce Small, owner, 824-3696; Woodstock Mountain House, Road Less Travelled, Woodstock, Patricia Williams and Bob Elliott, co-owners, 674-2112; John Courtney, Engineering Consultant, Bethel, 824-3535; Valley View Lodge, Newry, Jim Biggens, owner; Bryant Pond Station, Route 26, Bryant Pond, Jon Wells, owner.

The Bethel Winter Fest committee met on Wednesday of this week to further plans for this great event, scheduled for Jan. 7-10. The next meeting is Wednesday, Oct. 14, at 10 a.m. at the Bethel Inn. All ideas and individuals to help with this are welcomed.

All chamber members are invited to the annual Business Meeting and Social on Monday, Oct. 19, from 5:45 to 8 p.m. at the Bethel Inn & Country Club.

The chamber's annual guidebook is in the final stages of editorial changes and has been sold out on ads. We plan to have the new guide by the Boston Ski Show, which is Nov. 12-15. Many thanks to all members who supported the book by purchasing ad space.

The Winter Map & Guide is in the process of being updated for the upcoming season. All members should have received a mailing on this and are encouraged to respond ASAP to ensure a space for themselves.

We are seeking volunteers for the Boston Ski Show. Please call the office if you are interested.

The next Community Leaders' Breakfast is scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 14, from 7:30 to 9 a.m., location to be announced. The agenda will include updates from the towns of Bethel and Newry, from the Chamber of Commerce, from Sunday River and an economic development brainstorming session. The agenda will go out by Oct. 7 -- call the chamber office if you do not receive one, 824-2282.

From the

West Paris Historical Society

The monthly meeting of the West Paris Historical Society was held Monday evening, Sept. 21, at their building on Main Street. Twenty members and eight guests were in attendance. Following the potluck supper, the business meeting was conducted by vice president Vernon Inman. It was reported that several members helped to build, install and apply finish to the new kitchen cabinet doors. Installation of the plumbing for the hot and cold water for the kitchen sink has been completed. The treasurer, Betty Ringer, reported the Harvest Supper and Dance was a success with a balance of $370 from the supper and dance and $52 realized from sales of raffle tickets for the wreath. The Parisians furnished old-time music for dancing, which was enjoyed by all. The Parisians will be entertaining at Fryburg Fair on Tuesday, Oct. 6, which is Senior Citizens Day. They will entertain from 11 a.m. to 12 noon and again from 1:15 to 2:15 p.m. Seniors get in free.

Members voted to have another Hunters and Family breakfast on Saturday, Oct. 31, from 5 to 8:30 a.m. Details for this event will be completed at the next meeting on Oct. 19 with Milton and Eleanor Inman and Connie Bacon in charge of supper.

Dr. Barry Knopp of Norway was the speaker for the evening and his topic was, "Thirty days in the Alaskan wilderness." He presented a very interesting talk, which covered a 400-mile canoe trip that he and his brother made down the Forty Mile and Yukon rivers. Their trip began at Chicken, Alaska. They traveled through Alaska and the Yukon Territory, Canada, completing their trip 30 days later in Circle, Alaska. Everyone enjoyed his talk.

From the

No. Waterford Friendly Seniors

The North Waterford Friendly Senior Citizens will meet Wednesday, Oct. 14, at the North Waterford Congregational Church (please note change of date -- only for this meeting.) Blood pressure checks, for those wishing this, will begin at 11 a.m. The meeting will begin at 11:30 a.m. Dinner will be at 12 noon -- please bring your own place setting. Following dinner there will be a program -- you will bring home a Halloween decoration. There will be a table set up for a magazine swap. Also, if you have a Halloween tale (personal/otherwise), how about sharing it? Most of all come!

High School Boys' Varsity Soccer

Hyde 1, Gould 0; Sept. 26—Despite playing well, Gould was unable to capitalize on its opportunities and fell to Hyde School in Saturday's Alumni/ae Day home game.

Telstar 2, Winthrop 0; Sept. 25—Jason Rosenberg scored two goals within a minute to lead Telstar to a win over Winthrop. Will Seames and Dan Zinchuk assisted on the first-half scores. Bob Bean had eight saves for the Rebels.

Gould 1, CVA 0; Sept. 23—Gould dominated play in their second game of the young season, improving their record to 2-0. Matt Noeker scored the lone goal of the game off an assist by Patrick Donovan.

Boys' J.V. Soccer

Gould 1, CVA 0; Sept. 23—Gould's J.V. team opened its season with a win at home over CVA. Chris Brooks scored the game's only goal, as Andrew Dana earned a shut-out in goal.

Gould 3, Hyde 0; Sept. 26—Freshmen Brian Broderick and Emmett Donovan and junior Josh Ferguson each scored a goal for Gould, with assists by Rory Will, Chris Brooks, and Josh Gray. Goalie Angus Graham notched a shut-out as the team cruised to its second win in as many games.

High School Girls' Varsity Soccer

Gould 6, Hyde 1; Sept. 26—Megan Flaherty scored three goals in Gould's decisive win over Hyde School before a cheering Alumni/ae Day crowd. Betsy Capone scored twice and had two assists, Kate Warner scored once, and Kendrah White had two assists. Katie Davison played an impressive game as sweeper, and coach Lauren Head commended the Gould women for good all around team play as they improved their season record to 3-0.

A DAY OF DEFENSE—The Telstar and Leavitt varsity soccer squads played to a 0-0 tie in two overtime periods Tuesday. Here, Rebel defender Will Seames boots the ball back toward Leavitt territory.

High School Varsity Field Hockey

Telstar 5, Lisbon 1; Sept. 28—Heather Roderick scored three goals and Erica Gundersen had a goal and an assist as Telstar defeated Lisbon. Mary Ann Lowe also scored, assisted by Malinda Gilbert. Goalkeeper Emily Phillips had five saves.

Gould 2, Kents Hill 1; Sept. 26—Gould travelled to Kents Hill to earn a hard-fought win on Saturday, improving their record to 2-0.

Chelsey Bartlett scored Gould's first goal off an assist by Lydia Mills, and Mills scored the winning goal unassisted. Goalie Amanda Barrett had 11 saves, and Sarah Rackliffe played an impressive game at sweeper, preventing two possible Kents Hill goals.

J. V. Field Hockey

Gould 3, Brewster 0; Sept. 23—Patty Tumenas scored two goals for Gould, and Chelsey Bartlett rounded out the scoring with another as the team kicked off its season with a home field win over Brewster Academy last week.

High School Cross-Country

Sept. 25—Telstar's Anna Willard finished second for the girls as the Rebels placed fourth in a field of five teams. Other finishers: Jen Howe (10th); Katrine Burgi (22nd); Jen Shaw (24th); Lacy Hebert (25th). For the boys, Francesco Gaura placed 13th and Josh Aylward 21st.

High School Varsity Golf

Telstar 7, Jay 0; Sept. 29—Telstar's Neal Thurlow, Chuck Johnson, Josh Mowery, Josh Eickenberger and Dan Stevens all won individual matches as the Rebels defeated Jay.

Bridgton 6, Gould 5; Sept. 23—The Gould Golf team was on the road for their first match of the 1998 season. The team took on the Bridgton Academy post-graduates and put a bit of a scare into the older more experienced team with a narrow loss of 5-6. Captain Chris Buckley led the young team and although he was narrowly defeated 2-1 in match play, he scored the best round of the Gould players. New team member Max Otte from Germany was even with his opponent and Chris Liberti had an excellent round and scored two points for the Gould team. Matt Lewis and Dan Coffey in the fourth and fifth slots were able to gain two team points for Gould. Rob Liscombe and Dustin Holzweiss had good rounds and easily beat their opponents.

GENERATIONS—The Andover Elementary School celebrated Grandparents' Day on Friday, Sept. 11. Grandparents of Andover students were invited to the school to enjoy refreshments and participate and visit in the classroom with their grandchildren. This year 65 grandparents and other special persons visited Andover's 60 students. Abby Jones is shown here with her grandmother, Margaret Stevens.

Notes from

SAD44 Adult Ed

College Financial Aid Planning is the topic of a free seminar offered by SAD44 Adult Education in collaboration with Northeast Bank. The session will be held at Telstar High School in Bethel on Thursday, Oct. 8, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. The presenter will be Richard Preston, author of "Intuition," a nationally marketed book on college planning. He will lead high school students and parents, as well as adult learners, through the process of advance planning to finance college educations, covering how to plan ahead to maximize aid, which colleges have aid to give, which tax strategies work in favor of the student and family and how to qualify for loans.

SAD44 Adult Education and Androscoggin Home Health Services will present a free series on Aging Issues Thursdays at 7 p.m. during the month of October at Telstar Regional High School. The series is designed for those who are personally facing issues of aging including senior citizens and their families.

The first session, on Oct. 8 at 7 p.m., will cover the "Aging Process" and will be presented by staff members from Androscoggin Home Health Services. Information will include the psychology of aging, the impact of the fact that the age group 85 and older is the fastest growing population group and practical suggestions which help individuals and their families and friends deal positively with changes.

The second session, on Oct. 15, will focus on "Medicare Home Care Benefits" and will cover the various home health care and hospice services that make it possible for older persons to manage their health, personal care and daily living activities at home. The staff of Androscoggin Home Health Services will provide information on what services, including home care and equipment, are covered and what are not.

The third session, on Oct. 22, will focus on "Housing Options," including the variety of living options that are becoming available and tips on warning signs that may indicate that remaining home alone is no longer an option. Presenters will include Androscoggin Home Health Services staff and representatives of various housing options.

The final evening, Oct. 29, will cover "Estate Planning" and will be presented by local attorney Michael Steven. Topics will include important strategies and documents including wills, power of attorney, advanced directives for health care and trusts.

Sessions may be attended individually. Pre-registration is requested.

SAD44 Adult Education and Maine Communities Online, a service of Guy Gannett News Media, will co-sponsor two events in October designed to introduce area community organizations to Maine Communities Online, providing an opportunity for eligible organizations to have a free web site. A free public forum will be held at Telstar High School on Wednesday, Oct. 21, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Representatives from area nonprofit, religious, civic and recreational groups as well as towns and state agencies will be introduced to the free web services available through Maine Communities Online. Such groups are eligible to have a free web site which they can customize and update without needing to know HTML. More than 350 groups around the state are participating to date in the initiative officially launched by Gov. Angus King.

The forum will include a live demonstration of community sites plus such topics as how to enhance face-to-face communication with an online component, developing self-publishing skills, increasing citizen involvement in local issues and how to participate in Maine Communities Online.

On Thursday, Oct. 29, there will be two training opportunities at the Adult Learning Center Computer Lab for representatives of community groups to actually construct their web site. The morning session will run from 9:30 a.m. to noon and the afternoon session from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. The training is free. Topics will include customizing a group web site, creating new content areas, adding an additional administrator, inserting text and graphics, creating an events calendar and creating a related web site.

Pre-registration is required and space in the hands-on training is limited. To register for any of the above, call the Adult Education office at 824-2780.

A Maine Driving Dynamics Course is scheduled for Bethel in October. Classes will be held at Telstar Regional High School on Thursday evenings, Oct. 15 and 22, from 6:30 to 9 p.m.

Instructor Eddy Naples stated that those completing the course will receive a three-point credit on their driving record. Students must register in advance by calling the adult education office at 824-2780.

The Maine Driving Dynamics Course covers accident-avoidance techniques which are essential for everyday driving situations with films, classroom discussion and lectures.

This course, which is open to the public, is sponsored by SAD44 Adult Education and the Maine Bureau of Highway Safety.

REWARDING CITIZENSHIP

PUBLIC NOTICE OF INTENT TO FILE

Please take notice that P.H. CHADBOURNE & CO., PO Box 88, Bethel, Maine 04217 (telephone 824-2166) is intending on filing an Air Emission License application with the Maine Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) pursuant to the provisions of 38 M.R.S.A., Section 590 on or about October 1, 1998. The application is for an amendment to allow installation and operation of two new wood gasifiers with multiple fuel capability and to renew the existing air emission license for the sawmill at Bethel. According to Department regulations, interested parties must be publicly notified, written comments invited, and if justified, an opportunity for a public hearing given. A request for a public hearing must be received by the Department, in writing, no later than 20 days after the application is accepted by the Department as complete for processing.

The application and supporting documentation are available for review at the Bureau of Air Quality Control (BAQC) of DEP in Augusta, located in the Upham Building at 71 Hospital Street, during normal working hours. A copy of the application and supporting documentation may also be seen at the municipal office in Bethel, Maine.

Written public comments may be sent to Marc Cone at the Bureau of Air Quality Control, State House Station, #17, Augusta, Maine 04333.

RAY H. LITTLEHALE

Ray H. Littlehale, 75, died Friday, Sept. 25, 1998, at the Rumford Community Hospital. He was a resident of North Andover and had lived in the area all his life.

The son of Roscoe and Ervena (Cole) Littlehale, he was born in Andover on May 27, 1923, and graduated from the Andover High School Class of 1941. During World War II he served as an Army staff sergeant with the 2nd Bombardment Squadron, 1st Bombardment Group (CACW) from March 26, 1943, to Jan. 20, 1946.

A woodsman most of his life, he had worked for Richard Pelletier for many years in the Andover area and retired in the late 1980s.

He was a member of the Cheney-Dymont Post 199, American Legion, West Peru.

He was married in Harrington, Kan., on Sept. 7, 1944, to the former Natalie Glover, who survives of North Andover. Other survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Phyllis Spaulding of Andover; two sons, Learned Sr. of Andover and Leon and his wife Lois of Marietta, Pa.; a sister, Mrs. Frederick (Edith) Martin of Indianapolis, Ind.; two brothers, Edward and his wife Madeline of Andover and Clinton and his wife Barbara of Jacksonville, Fla.; nine grandchildren; and five great-grandchildren.

Private services will be held at the family's convenience, with interment in the Woodlawn Cemetery, Andover. Those who desire, please contribute to the Andover Rescue Unit, Andover, ME 04216, in his memory.

DONALD MELVIN CHRISTIE

Gray resident, Donald M. Christie, 90, a retired science teacher and superintendent of schools in Bethel and Gray, who upon retirement, researched, wrote and published a two-volume genealogy of his family, the descendants of Jesse Christie, died Sunday, Sept. 27, 1998, in Norway, after a brief illness.

Born in Omeville, Maine, Aug. 26, 1908, one of four children of Warren Southard and Eva (Morgan) Christie, he grew up on the family farm and in Milo, where he attended high school. He received his degree in chemistry from Colby College in 1933, thereafter embarking on a professional career as science teacher and school administrator. He did graduate study at Harvard University and the University of Maine, from which he received his master's degree in education. For many summers, beginning in his high school years, he worked at the Atlantic House in Scarborough Beach, and during World War II he did summer work in the South Portland shipyard. He taught in schools in Bradford and Liberty and was principal of Buckfield High School before he moved, in 1946, to Bethel, to become superintendent of schools.

He married Dorothy Doble of Milo on Sept. 2, 1937. They had two children, a daughter, Dawne Frances, who became a classical pianist and was elected Miss Maine in 1961, and a son, Donald M., Jr., a physician. In 1960, Mr. Christie moved to Gray, where he became the first superintendent of the newly formed Gray-New Gloucester School District. Even upon his retirement, he continued to serve as district business manager for several years.

Throughout his life, Mr. Christie was an avid sportsman. He learned to hunt and fish with his father and brother and played high school football and baseball, sports he later coached at schools where he taught. At Colby, he was a middle-distance runner and in 1929 was one of six runners in Portland's first Patriot's Day Race, the news photo of the start of that race clearly showing him poised, immediately to the starter's right, wearing black dress shoes, because in those days before Nike and New Balance, "They were the only pair of shoes that really fit me!" Later, he officiated at local track meets and led friends and family on many hikes over Maine's mountain trails.

Once retired, he continued to tend his large garden and, at his children's suggestion, enthusiastically took up golf, laying down the clubs only when recovery from illness, in the spring of 1997, prevented him from venturing out on the links and planting his garden. He was a Boy Scout leader in Buckfield and Bethel, and an active member of the Gray Kiwanis, from which he received the Kiwanian of the Year award in 1988 and 1991. He was a member of the Gray Congregational Church.

In addition to a very active outdoor life, Mr. Christie was a great reader, preferring biographies and works of history and poetry. A sometime poet himself, his greatest accomplishment was the fulfillment of his long-time desire to explore the Christie family tree, 10 generations back to the birth of Jesse Christie in Scotland. Beginning in October 1979, and continuing for five years, this quest was his passion, as he taught himself the rudiments of genealogical research and embarked upon travels throughout New Brunswick and the Northeast and Midwest, spending countless hours pouring over deeds and other public records, visiting graveyards, and talking and corresponding with hundreds of people who might reveal a previously lost family tie.

This labor of love culminated in publication, in 1985, of "A Christie Family History and Genealogical Record Covering Thirteen Generations (1672 to the present)," followed in 1991 by a second volume, "A Genealogy of Jesse Christy (Christie) (1672-1739)" both of which he alone wrote and revised, typed, printed and assembled in his home, before sending copies out to far-flung family members and to libraries and historical societies in their communities. Correspondence with many grateful and interested family members, some newly discovered, some coming from far away to visit in person, continued until his death.

He is survived by his wife of 61 years, his son, Donald, Jr., of Poughkeepsie, N.Y.; two sisters, Warren Farnham of Brownville Junction and Edna Dunfee of Orange City, Fla.; and two grandchildren. His older brother, Lindon, and his daughter, Dawne Shisler, had died before him.

A memorial service is being held at the Gray Congregational Church, at 2 p.m., on Saturday, Oct. 3. Contributions can be made in his memory to Stephens Memorial Hospital, 181 Main Street, Norway, ME 04268.

COUNTY UNITED PARISH

The Oxford County Parish's Church School (The East Stoneham and North Waterford Congregational churches, United Church of Christ) will resume Sunday, Oct. 18, at the East Stoneham Church. The group will rally together with a breakfast for the Church School and their families as part of the morning's program.

Chris and James Bennett of Buckfield are pleased to announce the arrival of a baby girl, Alexis Marie, born on Sept. 21, 1998, at Stephens Memorial Hospital, weighing 7 pounds, 4 ounces.

Maternal grandparents are Marguerite Lamb of Buckfield and Alan Russell of Swanton, Vt.

Paternal grandparents are James and Priscilla Bennett of Buckfield.

Stacy and Cindy Gammon of Andover are pleased to announce the birth of their daughter, Lisa Mary, born on Sept. 9, 1998, at Franklin Memorial Hospital in Farmington, weighing 8 pounds, 9 ounces.

Baby Lisa joins sisters Lacey, 11, and Lauren, 8.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas (Red) Conley of Rumford.

Paternal grandparents are Franklin D. Gammon of Andover and Shirley Gammon of Rumford Center.

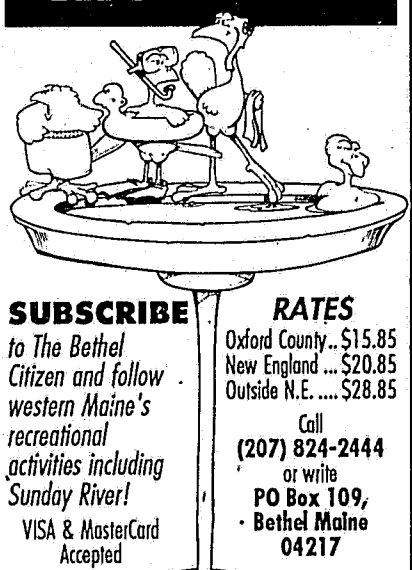

Card of Thanks

The family of Philip W. Daye wishes to express its thanks and gratitude to the members of the Mundt-Allen American Legion Post #81 for their services. A very special thank-you to John Head for organizing the military arrangements. Phil would have been humbled by such a memorable service. Our gratitude is also extended to the Ladies Auxiliary who provided a lovely luncheon.

Thank you to everyone who sent cards and expressions of sympathy. Your kindness will always be remembered.

KEEP US IN MIND

It's that time of year when your local Rotary Club must start gathering items for our annual auction. The proceeds of all of our efforts go to support such projects as the Senior Citizen Christmas Dinner, Christmas Food Baskets for the needy, student scholarships, support of the local health facilities, summer camp tuitions, area athletes expenses, disabled individual needs, etc.

If you're cleaning the garage, attic or cellar, let us get rid of those unneeded items for you. Call Al Barth 824-2931 for pick-up.

Help us with your support of our projects. It's a good feeling!
